Cigarette Tax Hiked to Three Cents a Pack

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS A state tax on cigarette goes into effect in Colorado at midnight-three cents a pack, 30 cents a cart in

As a result wholesalers said their sales have climbed snarply in recent weeks. Several firms said their sales had doubled. Grocery stores in the Denver area reported a run on cigarettes on their shelves The tax, imposed at the 1964 legislative session, is expected to be passed along to the smoker Most vending machines already have changed from 25 cents to 30 cents a pack, and many grocery stores planned to follow suit.

A number of cities also have their own taxes on cigarettes Aurora, for example, levies a four-cent tax per pack.

The new tax is expected to produce $6 million annually for Colorado's state general fund. The new tax was established by the state assembly and: signed by Gov. John A. Love. Its chief sponsor in the assembly was Rep. Ruth Clark, a Republican from Ft. Collins. One of the announced aims of the bill at the time it was in the assembly hopper was that it would help balance the state's general fund during the fiscal year that begins in July Earlier this year, the state representatives and senators supporting the bill esimated that it would raise about $6 million a year.

Johnson's off-the-cuff addition to his prepared remarks was occasioned by the presence of such business luminaries as John F. Gordon, president of the General Motors Corp.; Ray Eppert, president of the Burroughs Corp.; Howard Stoddard president of the Michigan National Bank: E. O. Lodge put on his political hat Sunday soon after reaching Honolulu, his first stop on U.S. soil on his homeward flight. He avoided all political questions from newsmen, but talked politics with Stephen Cooke, the head of the Scranton forces in Hawaii.

During the demonstration, he was made an honorary citizen of Viet Nam by Premier Gen. Nguyen Khahn The premier draped Lodge in the traditional ceremonial Vietnamese costume -a long, blue gown-and placed a black turban on his head.

As thousands of Vietnamese and American flags fluttered in the bright sunlight, a spokesman for the crowd and the government read a brief address praising Lodge for his stand "against the oppression of Buddhists by the Ngo Dinh Diem regime." Many of the flags were Buddhist emblems.

The farewell address indirectly chided the United States for having supported the Diem regime for nine years, and expressed hope that Lodge's successor would continue his poli-

A Navy man's larceny conspi racy conviction has been overturned by the U. S. Court of Military Appeals because a subpoena for an Admiral and another officer to be character witnesses was denied at his court-martial. Thomas F. Sweeney, Ship's Serviceman second class, wanted Rear Admiral William C. Hughes to testify. Sweeney had received a bad conduct discharge and six months at hard labor after he was charged with conspiring to commit larcenies from a ship's stores. In setting aside the conviction the court said that the Navy could order a re-hearing of the case.

Just as soon as the Civil Rights bill becomes law, the Department of Defense will issue a series of equal opportunity regulations and the Navy a commander's manual. These will govern the handling of offbase problems which face nonwhite service personnel.

Secretary of the Navy Paul B. Fay has given approval to the Navy's plan to restore the grade of warrant officer.

While the pending pay bill for Federal employes would be effective on becoming law there is some talk here of making the Congressional pay increase effective with the start of the new Congress. Too many are members concerned over the possible negative political reaction that might result in pending campaigns if made effective Serve cottage cheese dressing Illinois home economist, says a Mix together the cottage over romaine lettuce. Makes 3 basic kitchen knife "wardrobe" consists of these knives: paring. utility or boning; slicing, butchthe Wonderful er or French; and serrated.

> In buying, consider how many the bride will use daily or weekly. Divide this number into the price of the set. You may find knives cook attractive, but will price for each knife. Matching not necessarily work any better than other well-made knives.

The best knife is made from high-carbon steel with vandium or tungsten carbide added to reduce staining. A hammerforged, hollow - ground knife can be tempered to give a fine grain to the steel and to retain a good cutting edge. A knife marked "stainless" is generally not high-carbon steel and does not keep a sharp edge.

The shank of the knife, called the tang, should extend into the handle at least half its length and should be firmly fastened by two or more compression rivets to prevent loosening. If the handle is plastic, it may be molded into the tang.

The knife handle should be moisture and stain-resistant. The most popular materials for knife handles are rubber and plasticimpregnated woods. Rosewood, walnut and ebonite also stand up well. Ebonite and Pakkawood will stand high temperatures and are the only knife handle materials that equipment specialists recommend for dishwasher cleaning.

Carson Soldier Teaches English To Vietnamese

A tiny band of Vietnamese temagers is speaking English more clearly thanks to the efforts of a Ft. Carson soldier. M. Sgt. Howard A. Thomas.

M. Sgt. Howard A. Thomas. senior instructor at the NCO Academy, was in Saigon on TDY last year to instruct Vietnamese troops in the use of new signal equipment.

One night while in his apartment in the Chinese quarter of Saigon, he was approached by two youths who asked for help with their English pronunciation. They had learned English well from Oriental instructors but their speech was not easily understood.

Thomas was glad to consent, and soon found himself giving classes almost every evening and Sunday afternoon.

The Sunday afternoon classes were especially well attended, and he began to invite speakers in for broader discussions. Students and speakers from the nearby Cholon School of Mathematics were especially interested. Among his guest speakers was Shirin Fozdar, who had served as India delegate to the United Nations.

Some of the students came to increase their job opportunities with MAAG, others came to prepare themselves for university work. Among his students were some older men, including a retired colonel for General Chiang Kai - Shek's Army, now active in the Viet Nam Veterans

When he left Viet Nam, Navy men and local missionaries were continuing the school.

Thomas was interested in the Bahai religion and found that 25 of his 38 students, many of whom were of Chinese ancestry, converted from Buddhism to the Bahai faith during his instruction.

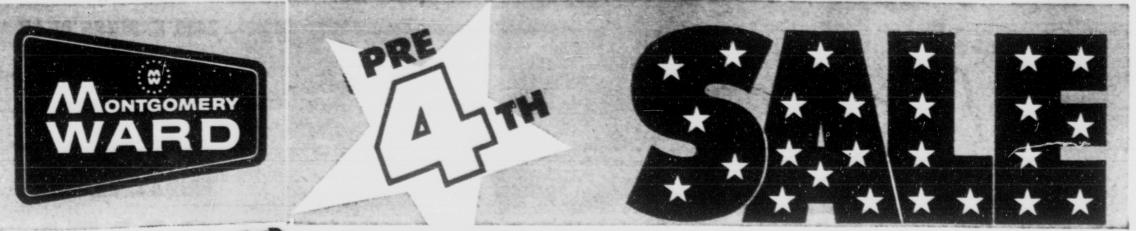

Since returning. Thomas continues his work in behalf of the students by helping arrange for university study in the United States, largely through Bahai adherents.

He resides at 723 South Hancock Ave.

Musical Comedy Is Accepted at Lincoln Center

2-C-Gazette Telegraph Tuesday, June 30, 1964

By JOAN CROSBY NEW YORK (NEA) - It is fitting that the first notes heard as the Music Theater of Lincoln Center opens its season at the New Yorw State Theater are composed by Richard Rodgers.

The opening of this theater in New York's artistic cultural center signals the acceptance of musical comedy as a legitimate art form. And Rodgers, though he is far too modest to admit it, is the composer who has done the most to make musicals respectable.

"The musical theater was an enfant terrible when I got in it in 1919," Rodgers said. "It wasn't at all respectable. Anyone with a nose looked down at it. Now it has crossed over the line and is regarded as art. Placing it geographically with Philharmoic Hall and the new Metropolitan Opera House is concrete proof of its arrival as an institution.

Rodgers' "The King and I' with Rise Stevens and Darren McGavin is the first of two musicals presented during the Music Theater's initial season. It will be followed by Lehar's 'The Merry Widow," with Patrice Munsel and Bob Wright.

"The Music Theater is the most glamorous thing I have ever been connected with." Rodgers smiled. As president and producing director, he is working without pay and having a grand time.

"I'm the only one in the whole complex doing it for Rodgers was offered the job by William Schuman, the chairman of the board of Lincon Center, and an old friend from their student days at Juilliard School of Music.

"He talked to me about this project as soon as he knew he would be at Lincoln Center. He outlined the idea, and it appealed to me. There was none of that 'I'll let you know in two weeks.' We had lunch together and I said 'yes' before dessert."

Richard Rodgers, with his lyricist-partners, the late Lorenz Hart and the late Oscar Hammerstein, has contributed such an imposing array of beautiful music to the American scene that anyone who listens to music with any degree of regge larity has to hear at least one of his compositions per day.

With "Oklahoma," he and Hammerstein brought about a change in the style of musical theater from girlie show to book show. But he denies being a pi-

"People seemed to think 'Oklahoma' was a revolution. but even to this day I'm not sure this is true. It was an evolution. A great many people had done something like this before, but with a less overt approach. There had been villains in musicals before, but no one had taken the trouble to write a song-like Jud's 'Lonely Room'-to explain why the villain got that way." The future of musical comedy is a continued evolution, Rodgers believes. "The limitations are less severe. Thirty - five vears ago, a musical either had to be a full-blown, romantic show filled with sword play and high notes, or set among the country club crown on Long Island. That was about as deep as you could go.

"But now musical theater deals with almost any subject and the public accepts it. We have had a musical about juvenile delinquents ('West Side Story'), an interracial love affair ('No Strings') and life after death ('Carousel').'

He does have one gripe-modern composers who turn out musicals without any really good

"It's either a new wave where it is no longer chic to have music you can remember, or else the boys don't know how to write music."

Formosa Airliner Crash Investigated

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)-Two pistols found in the wreckage played no part in the plane crash in central Formosa June 20 that killed 20 Americans and 37 others, police said today.

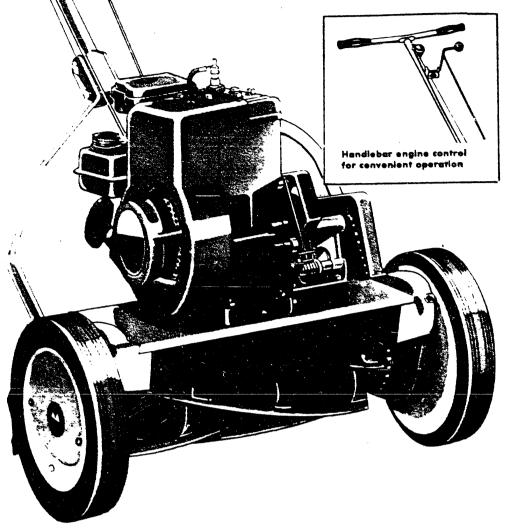

Officials of the Civil Air Transport line had urged an investigation to see if the pilot had been shot. Col. Chang Chen, the spokes man for provincial police, said tests showed neither of the pistols had been fired. The crash was Nationalist

China's worst air disaster. The American victims included servicemen and their families.

The opening of this theater in New York's artistic cultural center signals the acceptance of musical comedy as a legitimate art form. And Rodgers, though he is far too modest to admit it, is the composer who has done the most to make musicals respectable.

"The musical theater was an enfant terrible when I got in it in 1919," Rodgers said. "It wasn't at all respectable. Anyone with a nose looked down at it Now it has crossed over the line and is regarded as art. Placing it geographically with Philharmoic Hall and the new Metropolitan Opera House is concrete proof of its arrival as an institution.

Rodgers' "The King and I' with Rise Stevens and Darren McGavin is the first of two musicals presented during the Music Theater's initial season. It will be followed by Lehar's
"The Merry Widow," with Patrice Munsel and Bob Wright.

"The Music Theater is the most glamorous thing I have ever been connected with Rodgers smiled As president and producing director, he is working without pay and having a grand time

"I'm the only one in the whole complex doing it for Rodgers was offered the job by William Schuman, the chairman of the board of Lincon Center, and an old friend from their student days at Juilliard School of Music.

"He talked to me about this project as soon as he knew he would be at Lincoln Center. He outlined the idea, and it apnealed to me. There was none of that 'I'll let you know in two weeks.' We had lunch together and I said 'yes' before dessert."

Richard Rodgers, with his lyricist-partners, the late Lorenz Hart and the late Oscar Hammerstein, has contributed such an imposing array of beautiful music to the American scene that anyone who listens to music with any degree of regge larity has to hear at least one of his compositions per day.

With "Oklahoma," he and Hammerstein brought about a change in the style of musical theater from girlie show to book show. But he denies being a pi-

'People seemed to think 'Oklahoma' was a revolution. but even to this day I'm not sure this is true. It was an evolution. A great many people had done something like this before, but with a less overt approach. There had been villains in musicals before but no one had taken the trouble to write a song-like Jud's 'Lonely Room -to explain why the villain got that way."

The future of musical comedy is a continued evolution. Rodgers believes. "The limitations are less severe. Thirty - five years ago, a musical either had to be a full-blown, romantic show filled with sword play and high notes, or set among the country club crown on Long Island. That was about as deep as you could go.

"But now musical theater deals with almost any subject and the public accepts it. We have had a musical about juvenile delinquents ('West Side Story'), an interracial love affair ('No Strings') and life after death ('Carousel').'

He does have one gripe-modern composers who turn out musicals without any really good

"It's either a new wave where it is no longer chic to have music vou can remember, or else the boys don't know how to write music.'

Formosa Airliner Crash Investigated

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)-Two pistols found in the wreckage played no part in the plane crash in central Formosa June 20 that killed 20 Americans and 37 others, police said today.

Officials of the Civil Air Transport line had urged an investigation to see if the pilot had been shot. Col. Chang Chen, the spokess man for provincial police, said tests showed neither of the pistols had been fired. The crash was Nationalist

China's worst air disaster. The American victims included. servicemen and their families.

SEATTLE, Wash, (AP) -A resolution which says in effect 'integrate now' to the all-white teacher associations in 11 Southern states has cleared its first hurdle at the convention of the National Education Association.

The paper-thin margin of victory, however, makes ultimate defeat virtually certain.

The resolution, which gave the Southern affiliates a deadline of July 1, 1966, to get integration well under way or face expulsion from NEA, was adopted by the NEA's Department of Classroom Teachers, 1,004 to

"With a vote that close we don't stand a chance when it comes before the full NEA later this week," said one backer of the resolution, who requested anonymity. "But we'll keep try-

Pat L. Tormillo of Miami. Fla., another backer, said he was pleased with the final vote. "but the battle is far from won. No doubt pressure will be brought on delegates to change their votes in the NEA Representative Assembly."

The NEA leadership is against any "integrate or get out" measure for fear pressures in the South would force many of the state associations to leave the NEA. It favors desegregation of state and local affiliates but wants the job done gradu-

Tormillo said he was particularly disappointed at the vote of many Northern and central states.

Indiana voted with the South and against the resolution, 50-7. Missouri, 32-10. Nebraska 23-10. New York 29-15, Wisconsin 16-0, and South Dakota 13-0.

The three West Coast states of California, Oregon and Washington, plus Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Ohio tipped the scales for the narrow victory.

The Department of Classroom Teachers has 820,000 members. 92 per cent of the NEA total membership.

Opponents of the resolution said nothing could be gained by setting a deadline and forcing the segregated affiliates to meet it.

Peter Goudis of the Nassau Suffolk Classroom Teachers Association, Long Island, New York, noted that the resolution did not demand full integration within the two years.

"It says only that racial restrictions must have been removed and the process of integration must have begun by that time," Goudis said.

"We are giving the affiliates two full years to get going. Certainly, two years is enough. The resolution was proposed by 23 delegates from nine states. The 11 states with segregated state and local associations are Alabama, Arkansas, Florida. Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Virginia.

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) - Afgentina shivered today in the fourth week of its worst cold wave in 15 years, and even colder weather was reported on the way.

Heavy damage has been done to vineyards and orchards by winter weather that has sent the mercury as low as 10 below zero in the "frozen south." where a new mass of antarctic air was reported inching its way northward.

By G. K. HODENFIELD

SEATTLE, Wash, (AP) -A resolution which says in effect "integrate now" to the all-white teacher associations in 11 Southern states has cleared its first hurdle at the convention of the National Education Association

The paper-thin margin of victory, however, makes ultimate defeat virtually certain.

The resolution, which gave the Southern affiliates a deadline of July 1. 1966, to get integration well under way or face expulsion from NEA, was adopted by the NEA's Department of Classroom Teachers, 1.004 to

"With a vote that close we don't stand a chance when it comes before the full NEA later this week." said one backer of the resolution, who requested anonymity. "But we'll keep try-

Pat L. Tormillo of Miami. Fla., another backer, said he was pleased with the final vote. "but the battle is far from won No doubt pressure will be brought on delegates to change their votes in the NEA Representative Assembly."

The NEA leadership is against any "integrate or get out" measure for fear pressures in the South would force many of the state associations to leave the NEA. It favors desegregation of state and local affiliates but wants the job done gradu-

Tormillo said he was particularly disappointed at the vote of many Northern and central states.

Indiana voted with the South and against the resolution, 50-7 Missouri, 32-10. Nebraska 23-10. New York 29-15. Wisconsin 16-0. and South Dakota 13-0

The three West Coast states of California, Oregon and Washington, plus Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Ohio tipped the scales for the narrow victory The Department of Classroom

Teachers has 820,000 members. 92 per cent of the NEA total membership. Opponents of the resolution said nothing could be gained by setting a deadline and forcing the segregated affiliates to meet it. Peter Goudis of the Nassau Suffolk Classroom Teachers Association. Long Island. New York, noted that the resolution did not demand full integration within the two years.

"It says only that racial restrictions must have been removed and the process of integration must have begun by that time." Goudis said.

"We are giving the affiliates two full years to get going. Certainly, two years is enough. The resolution was proposed by 23 delegates from nine states. The 11 states with segregated state and local associations are

Alabama, Arkansas, Florida. Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, Tennessee. Texas. and Virginia.

ARGENTINIANS SHIVER BUENOS AIRES (UPI) - Af-

gentina shivered today in the fourth week of its worst cold wave in 15 years, and even colder weather was reported on the way.

Heavy damage has been done to vineyards and orchards by winter weather that has sent the mercury as low as 10 below zero in the "frozen south." where a new mass of antarctic air was reported inching its way northward.
